HILLCREST THE PITTSBURGH OF CANADA.

Sketch showing exact location of Townsite of Hillcrest Mines, Alberta.

This townsite is the hub of this coal district.

The town of Hillcrest is situated within less than one mile of the main entrance of the Frank mine, within three quarters of a mile of the Bellevue mine, within three-quarters of a mile of the Maple Leaf mine, within three quarters of a mile of the Leitch Collieries and within one half mile of the Hillcrest mine.

The Townsite Will be Open Shortly.

An hotel costing ten thousand dollars has just been finished and the furniture is being installed. There are already forty-seven buildings in the town. The Hillcrest Mine payroll averages between $15,000 and $20,000 per month while the combined payroll of the mines surrounding the town runs to about $100,000 per month, all from mines within one mile of town.

Prices of lots will be announced shortly. Hillcrest has been on the market for two years and has by all tests proven itself the highest grade steam coal in Canada. It burns a white ash and is absolutely free from clinkers. For further particulars apply to

BETTER TONE IS APPARENT

BUSINESS IN FRANK PICKING UP AND FUTURE IS PROMISING.

LIGHTS FOR WINTER

Coal Company Will Put in Electric plant Very Shortly—Decision to Build Coal Overline Has Been Made—Expectation is That Work Will Start soon.

A better tone in the business affairs of Frank is apparent and there seems excellent promise of an early return of the prosperity the town enjoyed prior to the money panic of a few months ago. This is based upon important improvements which the Canadian-American company contemplates making and the strong hope that is held out that the mine will start on full time very shortly.

One of the most important items in relation to improvements contemplated by the company is that the town is to have electric lights again the coming winter. Managing Director Gebel authorized the statement when here last week that an electric lighting plant will be put in. He stated that he thought it likely the company would put in the plant but a definite decision had not been reached and he could not state with assurance whether it would be a company affair or not but that in any case the town would have light as he would put in the plant himself if the company decided it did not care to go into the business. Mr. Gebel added that whether the enterprise was to be a company affair or not, it would be a reality in a very short time as he intended to order the plant at once and that it would be in place before winter sets in.

Another matter of much importance to the business interests of Frank centers in the proposal to build coke ovens and it now appears highly probable that a battery of 200 ovens will be built. Consulting Engineer F. R. Colomer who spent some time here with a view to making a report on the subject to the directors in Franco, recommended the building of the ovens and it is considered practically certain that the recommendation will be accepted.

A further reason for the better feeling that is manifest is that there is a likelihood of the mine starting, probably on full time at an early day. It is stated that there are contracts in sight sufficient to warrant a resumption, if not at full capacity, at least sufficiently near that to insure the employment of very nearly the ordinary number of men.

Superintendent James A. Johnson left for Spokane Saturday evening in this connection and although nothing definite is known as yet it is stated that there is strong reason to hope that the result of his mission will be a resumption of operations.

FERNIE RE-BUILDING FAST

J. R. Wallace of the Fernie Free Press was a visitor to Frank yesterday and made a fraternal call on The Frank Paper. Mr. Wallace states that Fernie is re-building at a most remarkable rate. Men of business are getting up stores with all possible expedition and there are literally hundreds of houses being erected Mr. Wallace says.

The business men are mostly building permanent buildings or putting in permanent foundations on which temporary structures will be built to be replaced later by brick or stone buildings. The plan of re-building the residence section of the town that has been adopted, is to supply a certain amount of building material which is to be repaid in six years and with this assistance nearly every man who owned a house is rebuilding.

Mr. Wallace's company is putting in a $2,000 plant which is already on the ground and will be installed this week when the Free Press will be issued from its home plant as usual.

HONOR H. L. FRANK'S MEMORY

The city council of Butte, Montana where the late H. L. Frank spent so many years of his life, at a recent meeting, paid tribute to Mr. Frank's memory in an eloquent expression of sentiment which by a unanimous vote was ordered spread upon the minutes. It reads:

"Recalling the Words of Wisdom, 'In the midst of life we are in death', it behooves us to pause and remember the virtues of the one afflicted. The subject of our present thought was a pioneer in the development of this vast state and commonwealth. He was identified with it in territorial days. With rare presence, hope and confidence as guiding stars, he struggled and labored with no less end than did a Campbell in professional pursuit, a Kessler as a military hero, the colonial Irvin, the revere worker in industrial effort, Housley, or the capable Mulder, in developing the resources of this immediate vicinity. Primitive surroundings require men of rare courage and boldness to achieve and in the list of the honored dead are men endeared to us for what they have accomplished and created—creation in legislation, or with the sword for the love of country and the preservation of home, or in the administration of a public trust, and its faithful discharge of duty, and the rearing of a great monument that will live in the commercial life of our city—we associate Housley with Mulder and now H. L. Frank. Death is a halcyon of an appellation when we recall these names. To mother earth they return, but their example, their work and what they did live among us."

"If it not a question in brief, that the good men do oftentimes is interred with their bones? If so, then the magnanimity displayed toward a Great Falls citizen in a senatorial contest is lost sight of. Is not charity and generosity oftentimes displayed to no advantage? Are not civic ideals that were fostered and furthered by him as the center of municipal authority when he exercised it here, but a shadow and a mist?"

"Bowing with reverence to the Divine power that bids us go hence, marking the sparrow's fall as well as guiding the fate of nations, let us thoughtfully recall the loss of a citizen honored and esteemed by his fellow men, remembered now for what he achieved; and deploring such a loss, let us sympathize with an aged mother and members of a family that survive and go on record as expressing the love and affection the people of this community bear, and the reason they have to cherish and remember the name of H. L. Frank, successful citizen and business man."

SILENCED HIS CRITICS

Premier Rutherford silenced his critics on the school book contract in a speech delivered at Cardston the other day. He told the people the contract was let to the Morange, the first service to be printed in New York, because by so doing the books could be got at the low, at possible cost. He added that if it is desired that the books be made in Alberta, he will annul the contract and let it to any Alberta concern that will guarantee to put in a plant adequate to the making of the books just as good and just as cheaply as those now being furnished.

LAKE GIVES UP ITS DEAD

BODY OF LATE GEORGE STEEVES RECOVERED YESTERDAY.

ROSE ON NINTH DAY

Rose to Surface Within Five Feet of Beach Party Engaged in Drugging Lake—Nothing to Indicate How Accident Happened—Several Witnesses Afternoon.

The body of the late Reuben Steeves who lost his life by drowning while on a duck hunting expedition a week ago last Monday, was recovered yesterday morning. The body rose to the surface by natural process on the ninth day and was quickly sighted by the searchers who were dragging the lake. There were no marks on the body indicating a gun shot wound or any other mark that would be the case, and there is nothing whatever to indicate how the accident occurred. The body was sighted about 11:15 in the morning by the men on the boat, working the grapple trawls with which the search was being conducted. They had just crossed the lake about twenty feet from where the body rose and were returning when they saw the body in the water. It was at once taken from the water and removed to Staveley from whence word of the recovery was wired to Frank. An undertaker was summoned and the body prepared for shipment. It arrived here this morning and new lies at the Imperial Hotel.

Rev. T. M. Murray had come to Frank on the local to visit Mr. Steeves and chanced to be with him when the discovery of the body was made. By a singular coincidence, he was about to offer a prayer. Mrs. Steeves asked that he pray that the body might be found. An instant later Mrs. Steeves' son Gordon entered and called his aunt Mrs. McLean outside. To her he gave the message and Mrs. Steeves was at once informed. She collapsed and it was some time before she could regain control of herself. Mr. Steeves has been in a pitiable condition all week and it is hoped that the finding of the body may have a beneficial effect.

Arrangements for the funeral have been perfected. The service will be held at Knox church tomorrow afternoon at 2:30, the Rev. Murray officiating. The Masonic order of which Mr. Steeves was a member, will participate and at the grave, following a service by Mr. Murray, the Masonic service will be held.

The search for the body of Mr. Steeves was unremitting. All the way from half a dozen to twenty men were engaged in the work constantly since the drowning, among the members of the search parties being friends from The Pass and volunteers from Staveley.

The work was under the direction of Thomas Madden of Lundre, a brother-in-law. Mr. Madden went to Staveley Wednesday of last week and commenced organizing his forces, and getting together the necessary equipment. A big float was constructed to which were attached ropes drawing grappling hooks and a tow was stretched across the lake, a distance of about 1500 feet, and with this the lake was dragged systematically from end to end. A gang of men at one side of the lake drew the float straight across, three men on the float raising the hooks whenever any obstruction was felt. When a crossing was accomplished, the float was moved its exact width and drawn back. In this way not a foot of the lake bottom was missed.

Among those from The Pass who have volunteered to assist in the search and who have spent several days at the lake are D. C. Dehn, John McDonald, C. D. McLean, S. Coulton, B. Craggs, Jas. New, John McLean, Jas. Turnbull, John Whittier, John Robertson, Samuel McVear, H. E. Lyon, A. A. Spence, A. V. Lane, Harvey Murphy, J. Mac Miller, P. Simpson and A. Gly.

HENRY L. FRANK.

The Anaconda Standard, of Anaconda and Butte, Montana, the scene of the activities of the greater part of the life of the late H. L. Frank, pays tribute to the memory of the founder of the village of Frank in a recent issue. So much of Mr. Frank's life having been spent in Montana, The Standard speaks with authority relative to his life. The Standard says:

Not with surprise, although with great regret, Butte received last night the tidings of the death of Henry L. Frank. A native of Ohio, he came to Montana and to Butte when he was twenty-six years old. That was in 1877. Thereafter Butte was his home.

Mr. Frank was actively engaged in mercantile pursuit. He was energetic and prosperous. Gradually he became interested in real estate, in mining ventures and in kindred investments, and he was recognized long ago as one of Butte's substantial business men. Not many men were more widely acquainted throughout Montana than he.

Mr. Frank was public spirited; always he took his share cheerfully and generously in every undertaking which aimed to help Butte, and his excellent judgement and counsel were sought by his townsmen in regard to all matters involving the public welfare. He never hesitated to express his opinion respecting current matters of public interest—he was outspoken, but his views always received a respectful hearing. He served well in the office of mayor, in the legislature and in many posts of honor and responsibility.

Disease, in the form of physical decay and mental clouding, had its fatal hold upon Mr. Frank a good while before even some of his closest friends realized it. Thus it happened that occasionally the remark was whispered that H. L. Frank was "not the genial man he used to be". That comment never would have passed had those who uttered it realized the truth. He was of late much in retirement.

In time Mr. Frank's friends became aware that he was seriously ill; gradually he moved to life's finish. In Butte today kind words will be spoken in tribute to him. They will be the honest expression of pleasant sentiments long entertained and far spread respecting him.

REUBEN STEEVES.

It is always a melancholy duty that is imposed upon a newspaper when it is called upon to make reference to the taking off of a citizen of its town but it is with more than ordinary depth of feeling that The Frank Paper undertakes the discharge of that duty to the memory of Reuben Steeves whose sudden going from our midst last week was attended by such painful and pathetic circumstances.

In fixing the measure of the loss, The Frank Paper feels that Mr. Steeves must be placed in the front rank among the men of Frank. He was one of the oldest inhabitants of the village and during the years of his life spent here he had become one of the most important members of the community. Coming to the district in its infancy as a man of very moderate means, he by his industry, indomitable courage and sure business methods, accumulated a competency and in the meanwhile established himself securely in the esteem of his fellowtownsmen. The part of the personality was never his to play; rather was he of the optimistic turn of mind and he was one to never lose faith in his town. At the most distressing period of Frank's history, his courage and faith never faltered. He was one of the first to come back to Frank after the slide and begin anew. From that day on he ever had him give voice to a doubt as to the future of the place. He was public spirited and energetic beyond the endowments of most men in these respects and his voice and his deed was always on the side of progress and his strength behind the rebuilding of the community. He was a man whom the community could not but ally itself to support. If he had his faults as have all men, they were of the character that none remembers now and only words of kindness may be heard spoken of him coupled with expressions of sincere and heartfelt sympathy for the bereaved widow and son. The Frank Paper believes it but gives expression to the exact truth when it says that mourning the loss of Mr. Steeves is universal among those who knew him.

Mr. Steeves died in the midst of his greatest usefulness at the age of forty-seven years and six months.

NOTICE

Odd Numbered Sections

As already publicly announced, odd numbered sections remaining vacant and undisposed of will become available for homestead entry on the coming into force of the dominion lands act on the 1st of September next.

As the records of only the even numbered sections have hitherto been kept in the books of the various land agencies in the western provinces and the time having been very limited since the passing of the act within which to transfer the records of all odd numbered sections from the head office at Ottawa to the local offices, it is possible that the transfer of records in some cases may not have been absolutely completed by the 1st of September. In any case where the record of any quarter section has not been transferred, application will be accepted but will have to be forwarded to head office to be dealt with.

As it has been found impossible as yet to furnish sub-agencies with copies of the records of odd numbered sections and in view of the large probable demand for entries, all applicants for entry upon odd numbered sections are strongly advised to make their applications in person at the office of the dominion lands agent and not through a sub land agent. Applications for even numbered sections may be dealt with through the sub land agent as before if desired.

Frank News in Brief

Alex Goyette, dealer in furniture and wall paper.

Dr. and Mrs. Macdonald paid a visit to Edmonton this week.

R. B. McLean, brother-in-law of Mrs. Steeves, is here to attend the funeral of Mr. Steeves.

September first was the third anniversary of the admission of Alberta into confederation as a province.

Mrs. McMeekin has closed her millinery store in Frank and moved to Hosmer.

J. A. Ferguson and C. R. Ward, C. P. R. engineers, were in Frank yesterday going over the sidings of the coal company.

Thomas Watson and wife, father and mother of S. J. Watson of Frank passed through our way to Hosmer Saturday last. They stopped over on their way to visit their son.

Monday is Labor Day. There will be no observance of the day in Frank but arrangements are being made to hold a celebration at Lillie. There will be a good time.

Managing Director S. W. Gelo of the Canadian-American company left Saturday night with Superintendent Johnson for Spokane. Mr. Gelo will go to New York before returning to Frank.

A prairie fire at Passburg yesterday afternoon threatened to do considerable damage but fortunately, under the direction of Constable Frayer, a large force of men succeeded in getting it under control before its spread became dangerous.

G. R. Gilroy, formerly with D. J. McIntyre at Coleman and later with the Western Mercantile company at Blairmore, left last week for Edmonton where he has accepted a position with Wallace Hamilton, formerly of Frank but who now conducts the finest furnishings house in the capital city.

All the mines of the district are being hampered these days in their operations through a shortage of cars. Whether or not the mechanics strike is responsible there is nothing locally to indicate but certain it is that none of the mines has more than half supply of cars. As the result is all probability, no hope of improvement in the car supply for the next two or three months there is likely to be another shortage of coal this coming winter since no stocks have been laid in and the limited shipments of the mines will not make it possible to stock up now. The prospect for a coal famine is good.

Take note of the George Cobley company's add this week.

Dr. T. C. Bruce is up from Macleod today.

A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Williams of Lillie Tuesday last.

F. R. Colomer, consulting engineer for the coal company, left Saturday to return to France, via New York.

Capt. F. E. Orr of Nelson, master of the steamer Ymir, visited with his sisters, Mrs. J. P. Wilson, Mrs. Fred Thompson and Miss Orr the first of the week. Capt. Orr left last evening for an extended visit to the warding province accompanied by Mrs. Thompson. Mrs. Thompson expects to be absent about three months.

Changes in the personnel of the company staff of the Hillcrest company took place the first of the month. T. H. Williams, formerly superintendent, resigned and is succeeded by C. R. Gilgrieve from Spokane and Mine Manager Thom is replaced by Corey Weatherby. The difficulty with the engineers has been settled and the mine is working as usual though hampered by shortage of cars.

The annual Labor Day matinee of the Pass Tuff association which it was expected would be held as usual this year, has been postponed to a later date owing to circumstances which have arisen within the last few days to prevent the association getting the track in order. The spring floods considerably damaged the Blairmore track and the repairs which it was intended should have been made before this, were interfered with. As soon as the work can be done a date for the matinee will be set.

The new dominion lands act went into effect Tuesday and the news dispatches tell of a great rush at all of the land offices within the area where odd numbered sections are open for entry for homesteads or pre-emption. The operation of the new law is certain to result in a vastly increased population in Alberta. According to the Lethbridge Herald the rush at the Lethbridge land office is unprecedented and the town is overflowing with land seekers. The Herald states that many people are unable to find accommodation and that numbers had to sit up in the park or walk the streets all night Tuesday. The rush at the land office has made it necessary to institute to applicants in line in order to avoid the inconvenience of the wait.

Mrs. Anna White, Neapolis, Alta., writes: "Received the Oxydoner and find it a source of great relief, although I have had it hardly a month. The first night I slept and rested better than for weeks and my bowels have moved regularly every morning while I used the Oxydoner during the night."

My general health is greatly improved. For years I have been compelled to take a physic every day and been subject to severe headaches and nervousness, but find them all disappearing and how thankful I am. My children say I look ten years younger, and I was just sixty nine years old the 6th of May."
